Local Company Forms Test Unit

Horkey-Moore Associates of Torrance, has formed a testing division for complete evaluation, qualification, and reliability testing of mechanical, electronic, hydraulic and pneumatic components for aircraft and missile use. E. J. Horkey, president, announced this week. According to Horkey, the division will also provide the unique service of component evaluation covering the entire environment range.

One of the Division's most versatile pieces of equipment is a very large, high-low altitude chamber, six feet in diameter and 18 feet long. Specially designed to check-out explosive ejection mechanisms for aircraft, the unit can also be adapted to simulated conditions up to 150,000 feet altitude, with a temperature range of minus 100 deg. F. to plus 350 deg. F.

Vibration testing facilities include a 1500 force pounds Calidyne machine and a 100 force pounds Calidyne machine, both with electronic control. Facilities also include salt spray, rain, humidity, sand and dust, etc., all being completely programmed automatically.

Classes in Model Plane Building

Hand launched model gliders again will soar at McMaster park each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

The Torrance Recreation Department will furnish all supplies necessary to construct the models. The only cost involved will be that of purchasing the models.

All fathers and sons are invited to attend the classes and to compete in the glider contests. C. Bass and Gene Leedy

Torrance High Band at USC

The Torrance High School band will be one of 22 participating in the University of Southern California's 14th annual High School Band Day Saturday in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

During half-time at the SC will instruct the group in the art of construction and launching.

For more information regarding classes please call at McMaster Park.

Oregon game, 1,500 students will play under the direction of William A. Schaefer and John E. Green of the SC band department. Professor Schaefer has arranged all music and Professor has planned the band formations for the half-time show.

The show will have just one rehearsal—a combined drill on the SC campus Saturday morning. More than 13,000 sheets of music have been printed for the event.

when you have a telephone

No need to go trudging through the rain to get things done. Your telephone can do most everything for you — while you stay warm, dry and comfortable.

Good weather or bad, your telephone is ready and waiting to do your shopping, run your errands, call friends for social chats or summon aid quickly if the need arises. And all this for just a few cents a day.

Yes, dollar for dollar, telephone service continues to be one of today's "best buys".
